A CERTAIN REMEDY FOR THE POTATO BUG.—As this insect is becoming troublesome in many places, whatever proposes to destroy them should command the consideration of the public. Dr. H. G. Blanton, of Salem, assures us that lime sifted over the potato vine when wet with the morning dews, will entirely destroy or drive away this destructive plague. It is a cheap experiment, and the suggestion coming from the Dr. deserves a trial.

W. W. NUNNELLY, at McMinnville, presents the claims of his hotel to the traveling public, and respectfully solicits a liberal patronage. Having the pleasure of an acquaintance with this gentleman, and the comforts of his house, we cheerfully commend it to all who visit McMinnville.

Up to the time of going to press, we have not received our commercial letter from Macon, Ga.

PERSONAL.—Geo. E. Purvis, of the Winchester Appeal, has been spending several days in our town on a visit to his parents. He gives a good account of matters and things in general. He and his associates make a first-rate paper, worthy of a liberal patronage, and Franklin county should double her support in every way.

Unlike printers, generally, Purvis is good-looking, and this being leap year, if some young lady don't win and wear him they will miss a good chance.—McMinnville Enterprise.

Since the above was in type our associate has returned to his post. In his absence we took the responsibility of clipping it, not expecting him back so soon. S.

The Franklin Review, published at Franklin, Tenn., comes to us this week much improved in appearance. Cameron took advantage of his late tour through the Northern States, and purchased him a new set of beautiful type and some good paper on which to print. Oh, that Whiteman would make such, or at least better than the mean stuff he now manufactures.

Many democratic papers have published, upon the authority of the N. Y. Evening Post, that the American Club of New York had gone over to Fremont. This is a falsehood manufactured by the Black Republicans to injure Mr. Fillmore. Only one of the whole Club went over,—the President, Van Riper, who sold himself for $1,000, and was promised $1,000 more if he should succeed in carrying the Club with him. The Club, among many other eloquent and noble resolutions, which we shall publish next week, has the following:

Resolved, That the National Club send nine cheers greeting to every American Club in the Union that they will fight now and fight ever for the glorious cause of American men.

Resolved, That we brand as false and cowardly every charge of treachery on our part, by whomsoever made, and we here again demand the return of the flag, as it never shall move through the streets of New York in the black republican ranks.

Resolved, That the National Club will support for the high position of President and Vice President of the United States, the Hon. Millard Fillmore and Andrew Jackson Donelson, and to this end we hereby pledge the whole strength of the National American Club.

The Fourth of July was properly observed here yesterday, by the houses of business, whose doors were closed. The oration of Rev. A. J. Baird, last night, was largely attended, and the audience very agreeably entertained and edified. Dr. B's. style, as a speaker, is very happy, and we heard several wishing that the 4th would come more often if such orations were delivered on each occasion.

The "young folks" had a very nice party, and enjoyed themselves until the anniversary took its flight.

McMinnville and Manchester Railroad.
The work on this road is progressing steadily to completion. The cars, at present, run to Manchester regularly every day, upon the arrival at Tullahoma of the up and down trains on the Nashville and Chattanooga road. The accommodations, although not so good as they will be very soon, are such as will render every person comfortable who may be so fortunate as to have business at Manchester, or may want to go to McMinnville, or any of the upper counties. There are hacks at Manchester, making regular trips to McMinnville, but they are entirely inadequate to the demand that is constantly made. It is hoped that better and more ample arrangements will be made, so that passengers will not meet with detention at Manchester.

Our clever friend, CHARLIE D. WILCOX, now has charge of the road, and is officiating as conductor, engineer, and in fact is perfectly at home anywhere on a train. It does the man of business good to see him at these posts, with his manifest determination to please all in the discharge of duty.—We congratulate the Company in having secured his services, and hope that everything he turns his hand to may prosper.

That this road is certain to accomplish much good for the section through which it passes, there is very little room to doubt. The rich resources, hitherto obscure and unknown, will be brought to light, and commodities of all kinds will be seen flying over it to their respective markets, for which an equivalent will be received. It has already given an impetus to improvements about McMinnville, and all over the place can be seen its refreshing effects. Beautiful residences, extensive business houses, and other improvements, are seen on every hand—all practically demonstrating what railroads will do. For this good work many deserve much praise, and among the number, none more than Gen'l. Moore and Smartt, who are now, and have ever been, champions in everything that has tendencies for good.—May they, and all others who have contributed towards these results, live long, and only die when prosperity has enfolded them in its arms, crowning them and theirs with plenty for the timely efforts in projecting and carrying forward this enterprise. a. v. r.

The potato bugs are still having their jubilee among the vines. Some one would confer a great favor on the farming community by presenting a plan by which they might get rid of this pest. The best plan we know of is to take a large pan of hot water and hold it along under one side of the vines while you tap the other side with something, so as to jar them off in the pan. Then strain the water from them, dry them, and they are worth three or four dollars per pound to physicians who use them for blistering.—They contain very near as much poison as the Spanish fly, and can be used in their stead.

On the moon a body weighs only one-sixth as much as at the earth, and the position of bodies would be so unstable that slight disturbances of equilibrium would upset them. Standing upright, or walking, would be for a man, with so narrow a base, rather a delicate operation. On Jupiter, on the other hand, a body would weigh ten and a half times as much as on the earth. Walking would here become excessively tiresome, if not impossible, from the mere weight of the limbs and of the body. The extremes of weight between the heaviest and the lightest of the planets vary as sixty to one.

The Fillmore Reception at New York.
flowing with them, and other gentlemen who soon followed, in Mr. Fillmore soon appeared from a private room.

Mr. Brooks introduces the Whig Committee.
Mr. James Brooks introducing the Whig General Committee of the city and county of New York, said:
I have the honor, Mr. Fillmore to present to you my associates of the Whig General Committee of the city of New York. We are Whigs, sir, all Whigs, and nothing but Whigs; Old Line Whigs of 1840, '44, '48 and '52. As long as Henry Clay lived, we followed his flag and his fortunes, and in many a hard-fought campaign we shared with him his victory and defeat. Veterans there are here, sir, who took the Hero of Tippecanoe from the lawns and fields of North Bend in triumph to Washington, and here are the heads of the legion that in 1848 carried you and General Taylor to the White House; and that failed only in 1844, because there was treason in our ranks. We come to welcome you home, as an old soldier, an old campaigner with us—to offer you our hands, our hearts and the humble approbation of our heads.—Here is the old guard, sir, old veterans that have never been beaten in a fair fight. Here they are, sir, just as ready for service as ever, and I am sure you will be glad to see them one and all.

MR. FILLMORE'S REPLY.
I receive this congratulation with a mixture of pride and satisfaction. You have agreeably reminded me of the many hard fought battles through which we have passed, and it has gratified me to look round upon the faces of those who have been so often associated with me in struggles for our common country. [Applause.] Though I now belong to the American party, which has grown out of the exigencies of the times, yet there is not, I hope and trust, that difference of sentiment between us which should alienate old friends. [Applause.] You have spoken, sir, of the defeat of Henry Clay, in 1844, and you have alluded to the causes of that defeat in our own State. There gentlemen was the wound inflicted that began the destruction of the Whig party. There was the canker worm that gnawed it to the heart, and subsequently carried it to the grave. These are painful reminiscences, all let them pass. I foresaw from that time that confidence was gone here in this State among the members of the Whig party, and that men could no longer act in harmony together, when such a noble spirit was sacrificed to passion, or prejudice, or to any ambition that may have stood in its way.

When in 1849, partly by the voice of the people, and partly by that act of Providence, that took from us the President elect, and shrouded the country in mourning, it so happened that I was without pledges, and was left to administer the Government—as it seemed to me the best interests of all demanded.—Nothing prevented my performing my duty to my country, and to all parts of that country—North as well as South.—Thus not only the Whigs, who elected me, rallied around me but the Democratic party also; certainly that portion of it which was conservative, which responded to my ardent efforts to administer the Government for the good of all concerned. [Applause.]

Should it be my lot again to occupy the Presidential chair, I trust not only to have the support of Old Line Whigs—the Whigs of 1840, '44, '48, and '52—but the support also of the old conservative elements of the old Democratic party. They together carried my administration through the trying scenes of 1850, and to them, in common with you, were I indebted for the order, peace, contentment, and prosperity I was thus, under Providence enabled to give to our common country. But I have said more than I intended, sir. I only wished to thank you, and those old Whigs whom I see around me, for thus extending to me their confidence and respect. [Loud and prolonged applause, followed by three hearty cheers for Millard Fillmore.]

An "early rising association" has been formed in one of the English towns. All its members must be out of bed before half-past five o'clock, A. M.

We recommend the formation of such an association in this vicinity.

Habit in a child is at first like a spider's web—if neglected, it becomes a thread or twine; next a cord or rope; finally a cable; and then who can break it?

Everybody in town, and in the country, so far as it is known that Guildersleeve is in town, who has a watch or clock that was ever made to run, whether it is worn out or spoiled by travelling tinkers, is now having it made to keep time as well as when new. Every thing of the kind is warranted, and if it does not perform satisfactorily, it costs you nothing. So if you want to have your watches and clocks made to keep CORRECT TIME, bring them right in, and we assure you, you will get the worth of your money. Mr. Guildersleeve wishes it understood that he is not a travelling watch-fixer, like many who start out from a gunsmith shop to pick the people's pockets by pretending to repair their clocks and watches, but a regular workman, having done a large portion of the work sent from here to Nashville lately, although not generally known to the people.
Neither would we forget those celebrated Brazilian Pebble Spectacles for sale by Mr. Guildersleeve. If you wish to preserve your eye and read with ease, throw away your common glasses and procure a pair of the Brazilians.

SALE OF Valuable Property.
I wish to sell my land, consisting of about five hundred acres, located six miles and a half from Decherd Depot, Franklin Co., on the road to Hockerville. Said land is well timbered and watered—there being three or four never-failing wells of good water; besides an excellent stock pond; tolerably good dwelling, with the necessary out-houses; good orchards, containing as good fruit as can be found in the county.
All the cleared land is in a high state of cultivation at this time, and if the purchaser desires, the present crop would be sold, together with all the stock belonging to the place, consisting of hogs, cattle, and sheep. The land is in two tracts, and can be divided, if necessary, to suit purchasers.
Terms—One-third cash, and the balance in one and two years.
—ALSO—
On the 3d of October next, at my residence, I will sell, at public sale, all my farming utensils, together with household and kitchen furniture. If private sale for my land and stock be not had before then, I will sell them to the highest bidder on said day.
THOS. H. WOODS.

STATE OF TENNESSEE—FRANKLIN COUNTY.
March term, 1856, of the Circuit Court of said County.
WHEREAS William Little, Collector of the public taxes for the county of Franklin, reported to Court the following tracts of land as having been returned for the taxes for the year 1855, and that the taxes thereon remain due and unpaid; and that the respective owners or claimants thereof have no goods and chattels within this county on which he can distrain for said taxes, to wit:
Jacob Anthony's heirs—One tract of land, 67 acres, in civil district No. 7, valued at $200; taxes 50 cents; clerk's fee 1 50; printer's fee 1 50; collector's fee 1 00.
James Campbell's heirs—One tract of land, 100 acres, in civil district No. 8, valued at $100; taxes 25 cts; clerk's fee 1 50; printer's fee 1 50; collector's fee 1 00.
Rhoda Stamp's heirs—One tract of land, 33 acres, in civil district No. 3, valued at $80; taxes 15 cts; clerk's fee 1 50; printer's fee 1 50; collector's fee 1 00.
Swinck's heirs—One tract of land, 315 acres, in civil district No. 8; valued at $700; taxes 1 75; clerk's fee 1 50; printer's fee 1 50; collector's fee 1 00.
James Britton's heirs—One tract of land, 36 acres, in civil district No. 3, valued at $140; taxes 35 cts; clerk's fee 1 50; printer's fee 1 50; collector's fee 1 00.
Whereupon it is considered by the Court that judgment be and it is hereby entered against the aforesaid tracts of land in the name of the State for the sums annexed to each, being the amount of taxes, costs and charges due severally thereon for the year 1855, and it is ordered by the Court that said several tracts of land, or so much thereof as shall be sufficient of each of them to satisfy the taxes, costs and charges annexed to them, severally be sold as the law directs.
N. FRIZZELL, CLK.

NOTICE.—In pursuance of the foregoing order of sale I will on Monday the 7th day of July, 1856, before the court-house door in the town of Winchester, offer for sale for ready cash the tracts of land mentioned in said order of sale, or so much thereof as will be sufficient of each of them to satisfy the taxes, costs and charges annexed to them.

To those who value their Sight
We would say: If you find your eye-sight failing, or if you use spectacles, do not delay availing yourselves of the opportunity of procuring a pair of the justly celebrated Brazilian Pebble Spectacles, adapted to your eye, and selected by a person who understands the business. They do not tire the eye when reading and will preserve vision unimpaired for years longer than any other glass if properly selected to suit the eye. There is no straining of the eye while using them, as in most other spectacles. The shape of the surface, (concavo convex) the large size and the fineness and clearness of the glass are the combined qualities which no other glasses possess, and which render them superior to all others. Many persons might have good eye-sight for ten or fifteen years longer by using these glasses than the common glasses which in the end often do more harm than good. Numerous testimonials can be produced from the best citizens of Nashville. For sale by
